

Cultures.
Space

CULTURES.SPACE is designed to diminish the racism between cultures. The idea is to increase exposure to various cultures to help people understand each other better. Starting from idioms, which is widely used in communications. Grouping idioms that have the same meaning but in different languages together and showing their literal meaning present the sense of each culture.

OVERVIEW

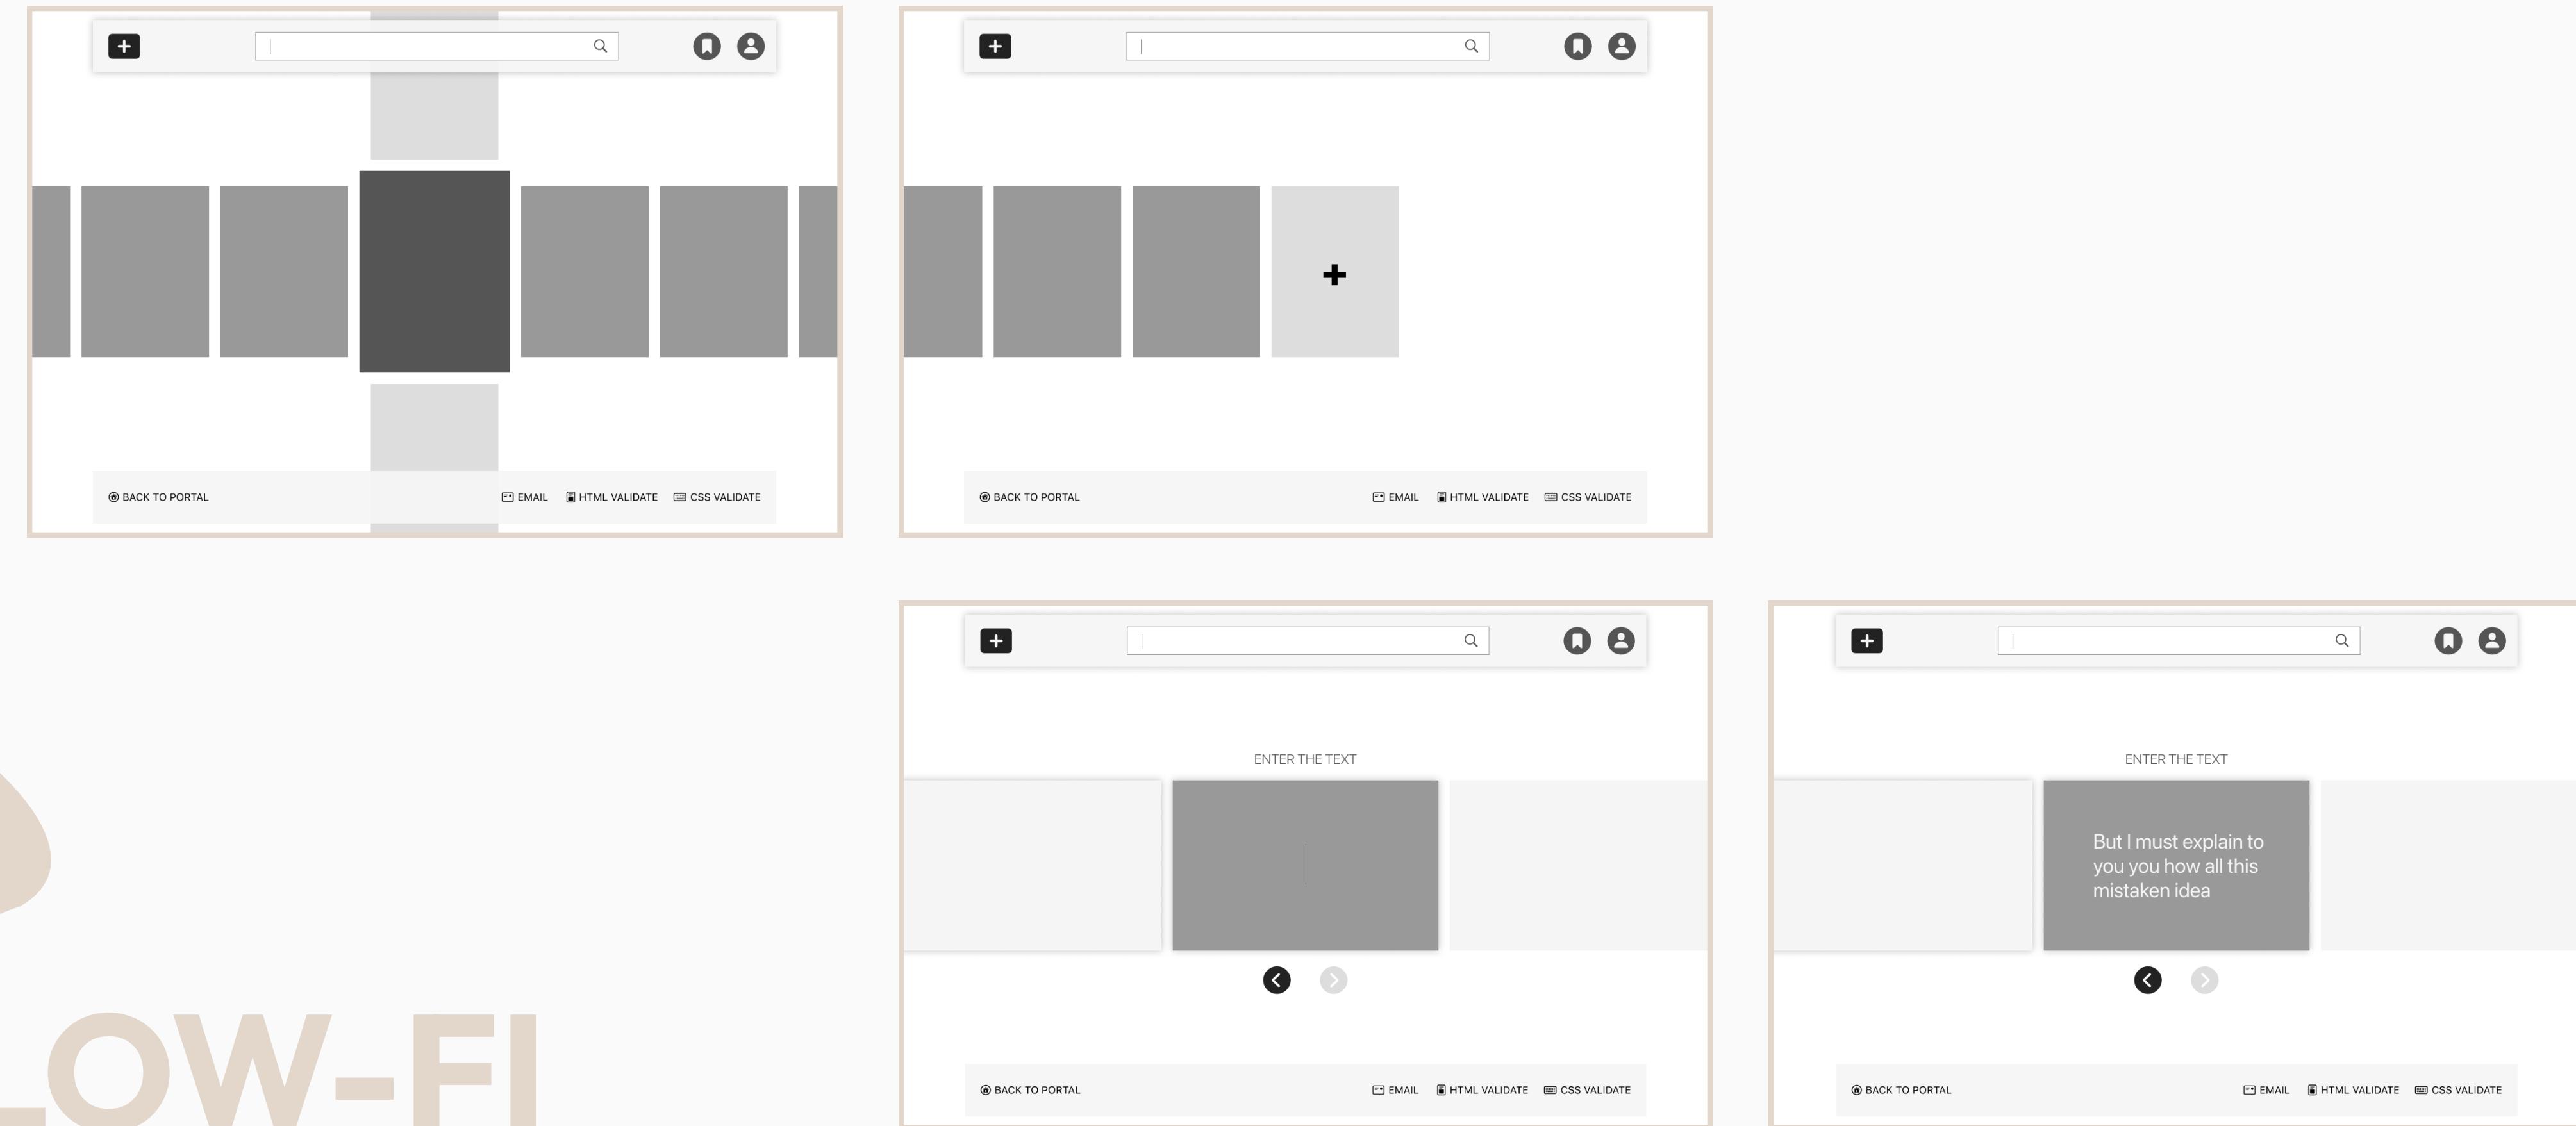

Visual

RESEARCH

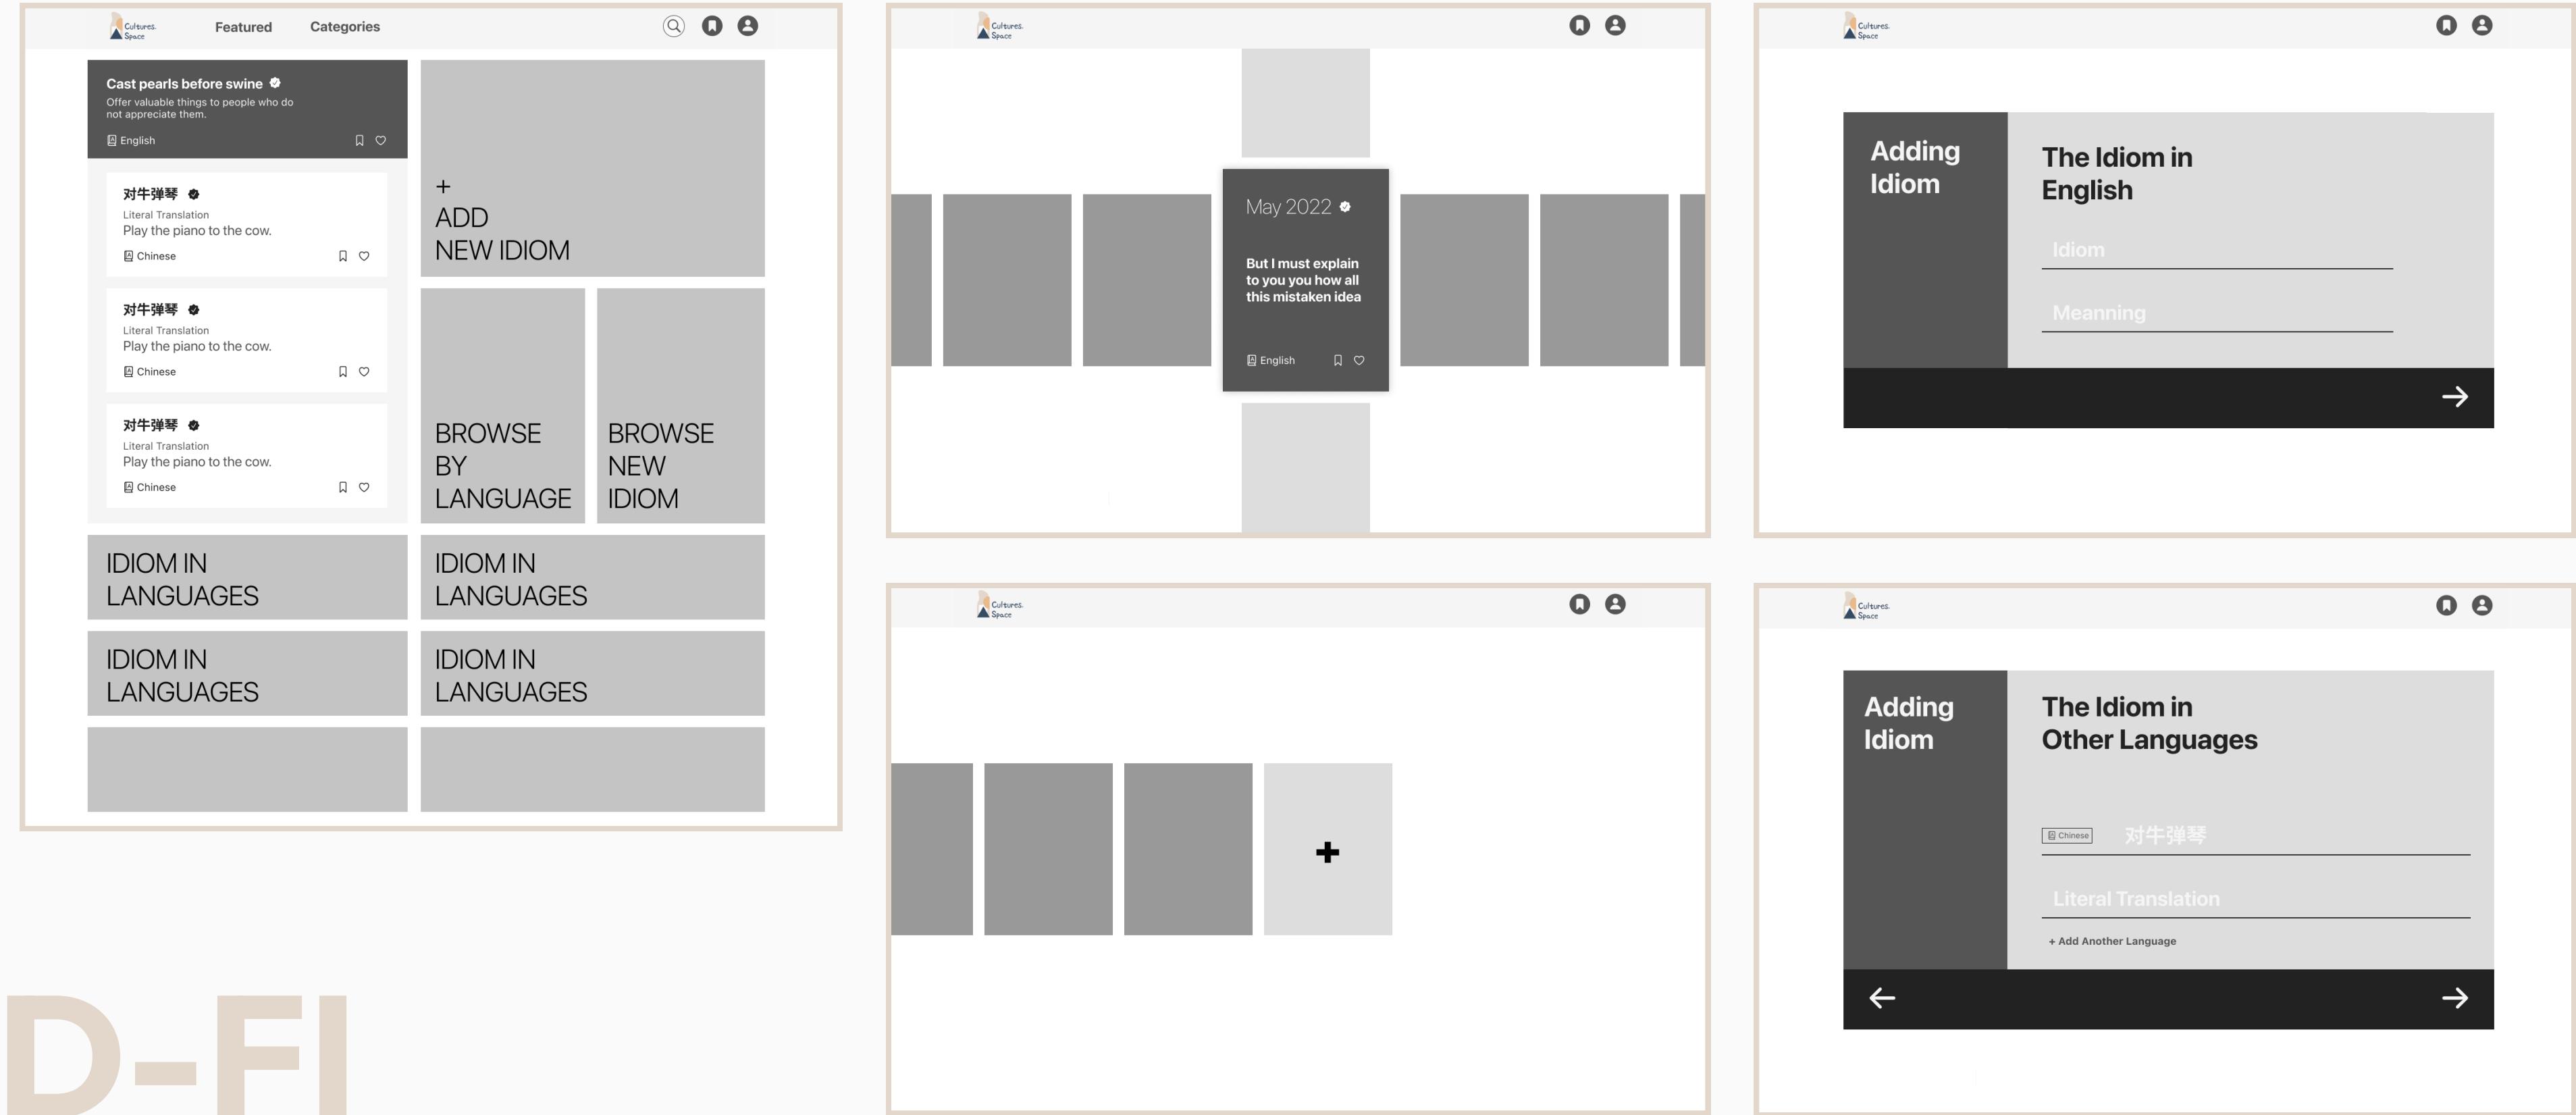

Content

Focusing on Idiom display and Adding Idioms

Focusing on

Iterating adding idiom process and home page layout

MED-FI

Focusing on

Finalizing the details of each pages

The image displays three wireframe prototypes of a mobile application interface for learning idioms. The top section shows the main page for the idiom "Cast pearls before swine". The middle section shows a detailed view of the idiom with translations in English, Chinese, and German. The bottom section shows a grid of smaller cards for the same idiom.

Main Page (Top Left):

- Header: Cultures Space
- Title: The Idiom in Other Languages
- Section: Adding Idiom
- Language: English
- Text: 对牛弹琴 (Literal Translation: Play the piano to the cow)
- Text: Perlen vor die Säue werfen (Literal Translation: Cast pearls before swine)
- Buttons: + Add Another Language, Back, Forward

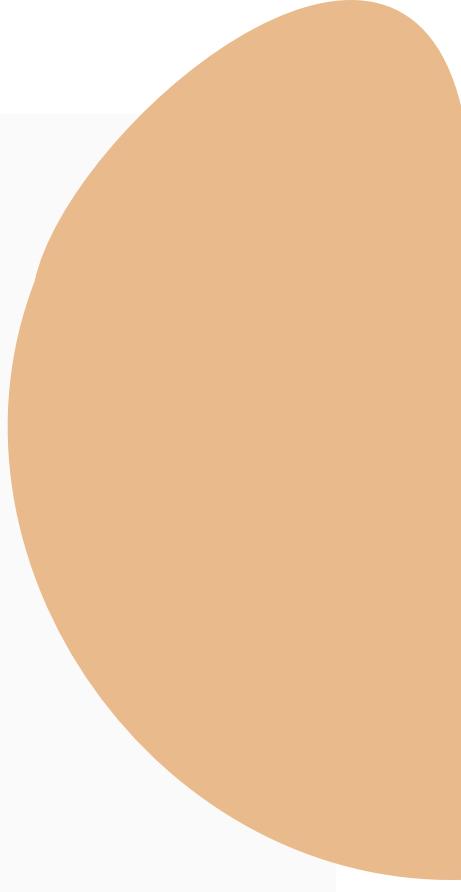

Detailed View (Top Middle):

- Header: Cultures Space
- Section: Featured Idiom
- Idiom: Cast pearls before swine
- Description: Offer valuable things to people who do not appreciate them.
- Language: English
- Text: 对牛弹琴 (Literal Translation: Play the piano to the cow)
- Text: Perlen vor die Säue werfen (Literal Translation: Cast pearls before swine)
- Buttons: + Add New Idiom, Browse by Language, Explore New Idioms

Grid View (Bottom):

- Header: Cultures Space
- Section: Idiom in English
- Idiom: Cast pearls before swine
- Description: Offer valuable things to people who do not appreciate them.
- Language: English
- Text: 对牛弹琴 (Literal Translation: Play the piano to the cow)
- Text: Perlen vor die Säue werfen (Literal Translation: Cast pearls before swine)
- Buttons: + Add New Idiom, Browse by Language, Explore New Idioms

FINAL DESIGN

CULTURES.SPACE is a project that requires a combination of research, design, prototyping, data structure, and programming skills. I got the chance to practice the knowledge I learned in DES 157 and UI/UX and Data Structure skills I had. Through this project, I experience the whole process of developing a product. These boost efficiency of my product design skills and the strength of my product management skills.

TAKEAWAY